Single Equality Scheme

FOREWORD

This document outlines our commitment to integrate equality and diversity into all that we do. It incorporates the statutory duties that we must meet as a Multi Academy Trust, an employer and service provider.

The Scheme details our vision to create, an environment where all people who are part of our organisation and the community it serves feel comfortable and safe, and where the needs of the community are well understood and provided for.

We believe that this Scheme will help us to meet our legislative responsibilities in relation to equality and diversity, and will strive to help us make improvements where these are identified; these are set out in our three-year action plan at the end of the document.

We acknowledge that it is very important for us all to work together in achieving our aim of being fully inclusive and accessible in providing a quality learning experience for all our children.

Mr Mark Stewart, CEO of Stanley Learning Partnership

THE PUBLIC SECTOR EQUALITY DUTY (PSED)

Stanley Learning Partnership recognises its duties under the PSED and will have due regard to responsibilities under this legislation as reflected in this document.

The Equality Act 2010

The Equality Act 2010 consolidates existing law into a single legal framework. It updates, simplifies and strengthens the previous legislation and provides a modern, accessible framework of discrimination law which protects individuals from unfair treatment and promotes a fair and more equal society.

The Equality Duty

As part of the Equality Act 2010, a new general public sector equality duty came into force in April 2011. This duty states that public bodies (which includes schools and academies), must have due regard to the need to:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation
- Advance equality of opportunity between different groups
- Foster good relations between different groups

The equality duty replaces the race, disability and gender equality duties and covers age, disability, gender, gender reassignment, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation and civil partnership and marriage.

Who is protected under the Act?

Academies have obligations under the Act as:

- Employers
- Bodies which carry out public functions
- Service providers

Therefore, Stanley Learning Partnership needs to make provision for the following groups of people:

- Employees
- Prospective pupils (in relation to admissions arrangements)
- Pupils at the school (including those absent or temporarily excluded) or former pupils
- Families and groups who might use the school for community use

Protected Characteristics

The Act makes it unlawful to discriminate against people on the basis of 'protected characteristics'. The relevant characteristics are:

- age (i.e. as an employer)
- disability
- gender
- gender reassignment
- pregnancy and maternity
- race
- religion or belief
- sexual orientation
- civil partnership and marriage

Unlawful discrimination is defined in the Act as:

- Direct discrimination (including discrimination based on perception or association)
- Indirect discrimination
- Discrimination arising from disability
- Failure to make reasonable adjustments (for disabled people)

The Equality Act 2010 also protects people from:

- Harassment, in relation to disability, race and sex
- Victimisation

A protected act is:

- making a claim or complaint of discrimination under the Act
- helping someone else make a claim by giving evidence or information
- making an allegation that the academy or someone else has breached the Act
- doing anything else in connection with the Act

Pupils must not be victimised because their parent, sibling or friend has carried out a protected act. Schools must also not victimise parents who make complaints.

Positive action

The Act contains provisions which enable schools to take 'positive action', i.e. provide additional benefits to pupils with protected characteristics, to address any disadvantage they may face. Positive action is not the same as positive discrimination, which would be providing preferential treatment for a particular disadvantaged pupil/group of pupils, which exceeds the positive action conditions.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR OUR ACADEMIES?

Within Stanley Learning Partnership, we are committed to ensuring that equality of opportunity exists for all pupils and staff, particularly in relation to age, disability, gender, race, religion and belief, and sexuality.

We aim to develop a culture of inclusion and diversity in which all people feel able to participate fully in school life. The achievement of pupils will be monitored on the basis of disability/special need, gender and race, and we will use this data to raise standards and to ensure inclusive teaching. We will make reasonable adjustments to ensure that the school environment is as accessible as possible to everyone.

We aim to provide all our pupils with the means to fulfil their potential. As an employer and service provider, we seek to eliminate unlawful discrimination against all pupils and staff by adhering to our duties, particularly as they apply to age, disability, gender, race, religion and belief, and sexuality.

Any alleged racial incident will be promptly, fully and sensitively investigated and, where pupils are involved either as perpetrators or victims, their parents will be kept fully informed.

Race will not be a consideration in admission criteria or a factor in transfer procedure. Where an existing procedure is found to be unintentionally discriminatory in practice, an attempt will be made to remove the disadvantage. See Annex 1 for a table of actions against racial incidents and see Annex 2 for Racial Incident Record Form

Monitoring and Reporting

It is important to monitor the impact of the actions taken to ensure that progress is being made towards meeting our obligations in relation to the various equality duties, and to ensure that no adverse impact is occurring as a result of the actions.

Reports will be produced from time to time which outline progress in relation to the Single Equality Scheme (most emphasis will be placed on disability, gender, sexuality and race because these duties have the greatest impact on school practice, but reference will also be made to progress in relation to age, religion and belief).

The report will include an assessment of how effective the individual action plans have been. The report will be circulated to the Headteachers or Head of School and those responsible for governance, and the findings used to improve the Single Equality Scheme and feed into future practice.
